Dirt Pile Remedy Demanded

Efforts to get piles of dirt along Andover street removed before snow and ice conditions hit the town, are being made by Public Works Director Robert McQuade.

McQuade said Wednesday that the piles of dirt are the result of excavations made by the Lawrence Gas Co. and contractors working under the direction of the State Department of Public Works. Andover street is to undergo Chapter 90 improvement and some of the piles of dirt by the side of the road are the result of this contracting work.

McQuade said that he and other town officials had been after both

Community School Group Appointed

The selectmen have approved the appointment of a seven man committee to study the community school concept of recreation for the town.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin has proposed the study and the board, Monday night, approved his naming of the seven members to the committee.

Appointed were Richard F. Barney, Theodore Boudreau, George H. Bragdon, Mrs. R. Milton Cole, Rev. Charles A. Fowlie, Willis E. Gray and Robert Radula.

In addition, two high school students will be added at a later date.

The manager plans to have the committee examine the possible use of school buildings in the integration of an overall recreation program for the town.

Mr. Parney has been attending a community school seminar with the town manager and Richard Swift of the school department, being conducted by the University of Massachusetts, Boston.

CONSERVATION was the subject for the Andover Village Improvement Society at its annual meeting Tuesday night at the Christian Formation Center. Robert Lemire, right, of the Lincoln Conservation Commission, discussed open land and its value to a community for the members and guests. Robert French, left, is president of AVIS.

North School Eyed For Regional Program

An educational and pre-vocational training program to serve the unmet needs of some older mentally retarded Andover children may develop at the West Andover Community Center, with tuitioned students coming over from North Andover, Lawrence and Methuen.

The West Andover Community Center's offer to share its Center, across the street from the Voke School, with the Andover school department could be the first step in a Greater Lawrence approach to all special education programs, if the advice of state education department experts are heeded.

The state, which reimburses communities 50 percent for special education programs, supports the new project and wants to see all Greater Lawrence special education programs conducted on a similar cooperative basis, preferably by next fall.

Assistant Superintendent Vaughn I. Clapp told the TOWNSMAN there was initial interest in the project in each of the communities. He said the intent of the program would be to provide a combined educational and pre-vocational training program to eventually lead the participants into sheltered workshop programs where they could become economically productive members of society, with the dignifying knowledge of being at least partially self-supporting, instead of being completely dependent on others - their families or the public.

The proximity of the West Andover Community Center to the Voke School is a key factor in local and state education department enthusiasm because Voke Supt. James Booth has pledged use of a variety of physical facilities, food services and the social support of Voke student programs.

At the Northeast Regional Center of the Department of Education, Mental Health Supervisor William Ferris told the TOWNSMAN that his office strongly supports the concept of the project -- to serve students whose age and abilities and needs put them "betwixt and between" Andover's existing special education programs, and to form, from the four communities, a class more closely grouped in both age and abilities than would be possible in any one of the communities. He hopes to see

May Exercise Control Of Town Properties

The selectmen, taking cognizance of a problem of vehicles using town land, told the Conservation Commission Monday night that some direction should be given by either the board or the town manager in relieving the problem.

The board discussed with conservation members, the problem of mini-bikes, motorcycles, and the coming of snowmobile weather.

Mrs. Virginia Hammond of the Conservation Commission, informed the board that it had granted use of the Essex Sand and Gravel pit off Woburn street last year for snowmobiles, but that apparently cyclists had taken this to mean they too, were allowed.

Mrs. Hammond explained that residents of the area were plagued this past summer by the nuisance of the vehicles raising dust and causing extreme noise. Abutters were unable to open windows during the hot days, due to the dust being raised, Mrs. Hammond said.

She further pointed out that the commission controls only a portion of the pit, the remaining area belonging to the water department.

Cyclists were using this land as well as the Recreation park, bathing beach and Girl Scout camp property for cycling.

All such vehicles are banned from property owned by the Andover Village Improvement Society, Mrs. Hammond pointed out.

Mrs. Hammond asked the board if it felt that working together, some regulations may be adopted regarding town properties and

Parking In Downtown Area Is Under Study

Downtown parking is under study by a consultant group working for the planning board.

Voorhees Associates, Inc. of Boston, began its work this week, using students working in the downtown area surveying the section.

The consultants have been asked to take an overall view of the downtown area to determine the most useful pattern for parking within the commercial area.

The town's parking lots will be included within the scope of the study.

The consultant's work is expected to result in some recommendations to be given to the planners and the town early next year.

In the initial stage of the study, the consultants are checking use of the existing parking area, how long they are used and who is using the lots and for how long.

Investigation of the possibility of enlarging the parking facilities for the downtown area will be included.

The study group is expected to take into consideration other studies of the downtown area made by other groups in the past, including that of the Andover Chamber of Commerce.

Also under study, by another group, is the condition of Main street traffic.

The state's TOPICS program, has a team of surveyors in the downtown area examining the need for traffic controls along the entire thoroughfare.

Included in this study is the examination of Main street with its intersections and entrances and exits from shopping areas. The study encompasses the section from Shawsheen Square to Phillips Academy.

State funds will be available for implementation of the recommendations of the study group, when the surveys are completed and accepted by the town.

New IRS Director

Henry P. Seufert has been named assistant director of the Internal Revenue Service Center, it has been announced.

He succeeds Patrick J. Ruttle, who was recently appointed service center director at Covington, Ky.

Mr. Seufert, who will reside in Andover, began his IRS career in 1951 as a revenue officer in Kansas City, Mo. After holding a series of increasingly responsible positions there, in Washington, D.C., and in Austin, Texas, he was selected in 1970 for the IRS executive development course.

The IRS uses its Executive Selection and Development program to identify and train officials who demonstrate executive potential.

Upon completing the program, Mr. Seufert returned to his former position of assistant director of the IRS Data Processing Systems Division in Washington.

Duff Sees Need For Consolidated Services

Community cooperation in mutual problems was the subject of a recent magazine article written by former Town Manager Thomas E. Duff.

Andover's first town manager, now administrator in Barre, Vt., writing in Public Management, a publication for municipal managers, speaks of consolidation of municipal services between communities as a solution to today's economic problems.

City Manager Duff's article:

Barre, an industrial independent city, like many of the cities today, is feeling the pocketbook pinch. In two successive fiscal years, voters have rejected the proposed city budget at the polls and substituted one with cuts which have served to reduce city general and school services -- the latter was sacred and untouched by the voters in the past.

This voter rebellion has served notice to our city officials.

Other sources of revenue must be found -- real estate and personal property taxes no longer will furnish the brunt of payments for education and general city services.

State governments have the means to extract dollars on a more equitable basis over a more diversified community -- the entire state. This in itself presents a local front for revenue sharing that in the past has not been too widely exploited.

Municipal services and educational standards must be reinvented to determine what is essential, and what is not, in terms of the services that each segment delivers.

The concept of dual services and dual interests must be shared more fully by communities where it is feasible to develop joint operations. In this area, our city has an unique opportunity to set the pace for eventual consolidation of services, and possible consolidation of governments; Barre City and Barre Town are both manager communities.

In this latter objective, it is a case of the "haves" and the "have nots" joining together. Barre City would be considered as the "haves" because it has all of the essential services -- sewer, water, police and fire protection, and recreation and high school facilities. Barre Town has a bare minimum of these services with the city furnishing most of the services on a revenue fee basis.

How to effect this merger is perhaps the most challenging program which we will be undertaking in the next few years. Therefore, we applaud the concept of regional thinking in areas that are undergoing development and have limited facilities and resources with which to work. We also expect state government to use its resources wisely to effect compacts and intergovernmental service agreements for utilities and services between communities, especially where federal and state financial grants are involved.

In our course of action, we are working to extend our city services to a Greater Barre Area, being careful not to end up a "have not" city, having shared the wealth of services without effecting a union of one Greater Barre Area -- consolidation of city and town.

ABC To Hold Open House

An ABC Open House for the town of Andover will take place Sunday, Nov. 21, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the ABC House, 134 Main St., corner of Morton St.

Everyone is welcome to the Open House celebrating the beginning of the fifth academic year that the APC House and its students have been part of the Andover scene.

Posters that students have made and put up around town tell us that the afternoon will be "starring the Guys, the Lakes, the Tutors and more." Mrs. Jerry Lake, wife of the high school biology teacher who is resident director, adds that the residents will also have a display board set up to illustrate their activities for guests.

ABC stands for A Better Chance, the Dartmouth College-originated program to offer students from academically deprived school backgrounds a better preparation and a better chance of successful entrance to college and higher education. The local program is administered by the Andover ABC Committee whose present chairman is William Scheerer, 4 Haven Drive.

Open House will also be a chance to meet the four new Andover ABC students: Gary Conaway from New York City, Charles Rogers, Chester, Pa., Wayne Thomas, New Bedford and Bentley Whitfield, New York City.

The group now numbers five seniors, four juniors and three sophomores. Their school and community activities range from Project Care, the hotline for people in trouble, teaching basketball to Spanish speaking youngsters through the Greater Lawrence Ecumenical Area Ministry, to work on the high school newspaper and yearbook, and - oh yes - sports - football, cross country, soccer, basketball and track teams, for starters.

Veteran Expresses

Dr. Richard D. I. Lowell St., has been given a special permit by the town of Andover to place of appeals to place in addition to his veterinary services at the same address.

In denying the permit was applied for under the bylaw covering the operation of a veterinary hospital, rest, convalescence home for animals.

The petition was filed with the board May 6.

The petitioner had also asked for a special permit to be owned by the petitioner, to be used for physical facilities.

It was explained that it is necessary due to the demand placed on the facilities, five full-time employees, including two veterinarians.

The increased space and additional examination and treatment rooms greater efficiency.

The zoning board had acted on several occasions over the years.

In addition to the special permit for the board said it could transfer to a corporation on the original permit petitioner which was used. No intervening case has changed since.

Veterinarian Hospital Expansion Denied

Dr. Richard D. Lindsay, 233 Lowell St., has been denied a special permit by the zoning board of appeals to place a two-story addition to his veterinary hospital at the same address.

In denying the petition which was applied for under the section of the bylaw covering "hospital, sanitarium, rest, convalescent or nursing homes," the board ruled that the section does not encompass, "an animal hospital, or veterinary hospital or sanitarium, rest, convalescent or nursing home for animals."

The petition was heard by the board May 6.

The petitioner had requested the addition and also to allow a corporation to be owned 51 percent by the petitioner, to take over the physical facilities.

It was explained that the addition is necessary due to the increased demand placed on the hospital and its facilities, five full time employees, including two associate veterinarians.

The increased space would provide additional examination, X-ray and treatment rooms and permit greater efficiency.

The zoning board noted that it had acted on several petitions presented over the years.

In addition to denial of the special permit for the addition, the board said it could not allow transfer to a corporation based on the original permit issued to the petitioner which was for his sole use. No intervening circumstance has changed since the original

Students From Voke Aid Chamber

Students from the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High school began Tuesday assisting the Andover Chamber of Commerce in setting up its downtown Christmas lighting display.

The students from the electrical department have been placing the lights and wiring on the small trees in the downtown area in preparation for their illumination during the Christmas season.

The youngsters and the school are co-operating with the chamber in the venture as the West Andover school being a part of the Andover community.

The school will be maintaining the lighting program on the trees through the season which will begin Thanksgiving night until New Year's day.

The duration record for continuous clapping is 14 hours 6 minutes by two English boys in 1968. They sustained an average of 140 claps per minute and an audibility range of at least 100 yards.

permit was granted, the board feels which would allow a corporation to take over the operation of the hospital.

Receives Journalism Honor

Miss Helen Auchterlonie, staff reporter of the Somerville Journal, has been honored for her journalistic accomplishment, receiving first prize for the best news story in 1971 by the Suburban Newspapers of America.

The award was presented at the 11th annual editorial seminar conducted by the SNA in Chicago.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Auchterlonie, 76 Red Spring Road, was lauded for her in-depth series on Somerville's municipal incinerator which was carried by the newspaper last spring.

The panel of judges selected Miss Auchterlonie's series "in recognition of the best single news story written by a suburban journalist."

A graduate of Andover High School, Miss Auchterlonie received her B.A. degree cum laude from Salem State College in 1970.

The expression, "The Almighty Dollar," was invented by Washington Irving, in 1837.

NEW HORIZONS. Alfred Kleider has been guiding a professional employment opportunity group at Memorial Hall library. The group, known as New Horizons, has been providing job information for unemployed persons in co-operation with the resources of the library.

Job Aids At Library

On a large bulletin board in Memorial Hall Library are posted opportunities which may make a great deal of difference to a number of people in the Andover area. Here jobs are listed for key-punch operators, chemical engineers, circuit designers, and other professional workers.

All of this is the result of a group called New Horizons, a professional employment group, which has been meeting weekly in the Memorial Hall Library since Sept. 22. The group organized at that time for the purpose of helping each other find new employment.

The New Horizons Center also features current books on the subject of job-hunting. Memorial Hall Library has added new titles in this area and is offering also information on writing resumes. Copies of this information are available on request. A brochure is also available which presents the resources within the library for the benefit of those professional people who are seeking jobs.

The staff knows of no other library which has provided an opportunity for professional people to organize and establish a center. Prospective employers are invited to post job openings on the bulletin board at the library.

The department investigated 46 breaking and entering complaints and 30 attempted breaks, according to the report.

There were 48 larcenies reported, nine of under $50 and 39 in excess of $50 including 16 bicycles.

Arrests and charges during the month were: speeding, six; no sticker, one; no license, three; stop sign violation, four; school bus violation, one; allowing improper person to operate, two; operating on learner's permit after sunset, one; operating under the influence of alcohol, five; drunkenness, 12, including three juveniles; possession of marijuana, three, including one juvenile; larceny, one; breaking and entering, two; receiving stolen property, two; and out-of-town warrant, two.

There were two automobiles reported stolen, 61 complaints of vandalism, 17 doors found open and secured, 50 house checks for residents; and 31 summons served for out-of-town police.

There was one fatal accident, 18 personal injury accidents and 29 property damage accidents reported.

During the month 19 motor vehicle violations were reported to the registry of motor vehicles.

Appointed Reference Librarian

Miss Patricia Ann DePetrillo of Methuen has been appointed Reference Librarian for the McQuade Library at Merrimack College, it has been announced by Merrimack College President, Rev. John R. Aherne, O.S.A.

As Reference Librarian, Miss DePetrillo will assist students and people from the surrounding communities in utilizing the various resources and reference works in the McQuade Library. She will also be available in her new position to answer any questions regarding library sources for research and study.

A 1965 graduate of Tenney High School, Miss DePetrillo is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale A. DePetrillo, 31 Paris St., Methuen. She attended Emmanuel College and Merrimack College where she received the B.A. degree in English, Summa Cum Laude, in 1969.

Upon graduation, Miss DePetrillo won a Title II-B Fellowship in Library Science to pursue graduate studies at Simmons College in August, 1970.

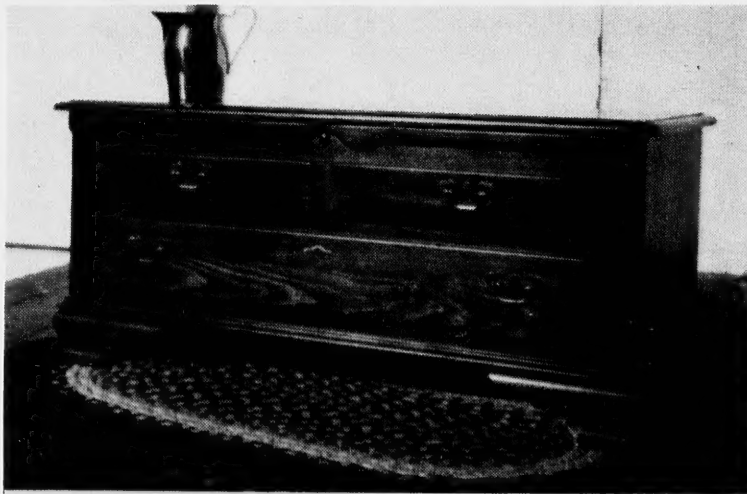

Prior to her appointment at Merrimack, she worked at the Memorial Hall Library in Andover.

Questionnaires To Aid Education Study Groups

Three community committees wrestling with top educational issues will be questioning the Andover citizenry before coming to conclusions on (1) What is a desirable climate of learning for Andover and how is it attained or maintained (2) open campus education at the high school and (3) the extended school year.

All meetings are open to the public, with visitors' response welcomed. The Curious Citizen wonders about the purpose of the three committees, their charges how they are going about it.

In this, the Andover school system's first large-scale attempt at community participation in policy making, the committees are largely made up of lay members of the community. Teachers and students are also represented and a school committeeman is a member, on each committee. A school administrator organizes and acts as resource person, but the Climate of Learning and the Open Campus committees have already elected their own chairman.

It is easy to generate heat on any important educational issue.

The committees' responsibility is to generate light instead, by a cross-section of the community studying and discussing all possible facts and information on each issue, then disseminating these through their public meetings, forums, media, etc. Members are finding that they have a lot of homework to do. The next step is to evoke a response from the community at large, through questionnaires, and the Climate of Learning Committee members who aim at the most comprehensive questionnaire, say this is the hardest of all.

The Climate of Learning Committee, organized by Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert, includes parents, businessmen, students, teachers, who have been meeting for several weeks, and elected East Junior High parent Garry Stephens as their chairman.

This citizens' committee sees itself as a survey committee whose charge is to prepare a comprehensive questionnaire which will evoke a real community direction, to sort out and report their findings to the school committee, and afterwards assist in implementation of any recommendations.

Their subject was such that they found the job mind-boggling, also the Dec. 15 deadline, since extended. They divided themselves into subcommittees to deal with three aspects of their issue - the scope of the schools' educational mission, rights and responsibilities, and communications, and a fourth committee on the mechanics of the eventual questionnaire itself.

Their concern, said Stephens, is to produce a questionnaire which will give an opportunity for people who feel they aren't heard, haven't been polled, to thoughtfully participate in policy making. He said a questionnaire could be produced quickly, which simply elicited top of the head either-or answers to black and white questions, but would be useless. The committee is after a qualitative evaluation, which asks people to list by priorities, and produces real information about community desires.

The charge of the Open Campus committee which was organized by High School Principal Wormwood and elected its chairman after presstime Wednesday, is to study the open campus (Community School) concept, make recommendations about whether or not Andover should expand into such a program, and if so, what kind of design would best fit Andover. Wormwood told the TOWNSMAN that the options are many, including staying out of the concept altogether, or different ways of going in - for example by actually lengthening the school day to 8-4 p.m. to accommodate off campus programs and activities.

The point of open campus plans, is to take education out into the community, with the support of local business and industry, as well as the community at large. For this reason, business is represented on Andover's citizens' committee studying the open campus concept.

A basic issue is whether to ask the state for a waiver (from the student's 5 1/2 day in school) in order to take advantage of learning activities outside the school grounds. But this waiver would only be granted, after a program was devised, and approved by the state board of education as fuller than the existing in-school program. Senior high school Supervisor Peter Coffin, of the Northeast Regional Center of the Department of Education this week told the TOWNSMAN that the state grants the waiver only if the open campus plan submitted by a school improves and increases the program offerings to students. "Open campus generates more programs than before."

Coffin said that of the Northeast Region's 58 high schools, eight are now on some open campus plan, with 16 more in the process of designing open campus plans.

The Extended School Year Committee, organized by Assistant Superintendent Vaughn I. Clapp, is considering the extended school year as one of several answers to school population pressures, each with different plus and minus factors.

One alternative is to do nothing except try for better use of existing buildings, Clapp said. Construction of new buildings to meet all needs is a second alternative, while the third is going into some form of extended or rescheduled school year.

Clapp's committee has also broken up into sub-committees, which are considering different forms of rescheduling the school year. One is by the continuous school year plan, one by term rotation, where the year is divided up into several terms, and a different group of students is on vacation each term. The third is a multiple trails plan. The next meeting of the extended school year committee is also next Thursday, Nov. 18, 7:30 p.m., and also at the high school library.

Principal Wormwood said that the three committees have interests in common, and would occasionally be meeting together.

The Curious Citizen checked with committee members and found that whatever the committee, the story was the same - lots of homework to digest, time-consuming meetings, but obviously worthwhile if you are interested in education. A member of the Climate of Learning Committee reeled off a list of reading materials she is expected to have digested - "Pegasus, (the teacher's newsletter), the town's Masterplan, budget figures from the schools, the drug policy, the superintendent's five year goals and lots more. But we have to have this background if we are to contribute intelligently to the work of these committees."

Appointed Vice-Pres. Of Utility

New England Electric System has announced the election of Robert E. Maguire of Andover to the post of vice president, New England Power Service Company.

Maguire, who is currently vice president and regional executive of the Massachusetts Electric Company in North Andover will be headquartered in Westboro. His responsibilities will include manpower, expense and construction budgeting for the system.

John R. McVey, currently district manager for Massachusetts Electric Company in the Lynn-Salem area, will succeed Mr. Maguire as regional executive.

Maguire is a native of Somerville. He is a graduate of St. John's High School in North Cambridge and then Northeastern University, where he received his B.S. in chemical engineering in 1950 and a BBA in engineering and management in 1953. He also completed the Tufts College executive development program in 1956 and New England Electric's management development program in 1961.

In 1950 he joined New England Electric as a training student. In 1952 he was assigned to the Gas Division and has held various operating and management positions in Leominster, Lawrence and Malden since that time, rising in 1968 to the post of vice president and manager of Mystic Valley Gas Company in Malden. In 1970 he was named to his most recent assignment as vice president and regional executive for Massachusetts Electric.

Maguire has been prominent in civic affairs and has taken an active part in United Fund, Red Cross and Chamber of Commerce activities. He is a Trustee of the Essex Broadway Savings Bank, Lawrence, and lives with his wife and four children at 22 Ivy Lane.

John R. McVey, most recently district manager in Lynn-Salem for Massachusetts Electric, comes to his new position after a series of assignments which have given him broad system experience. He joined the New England Electric System in 1933 and rose to district manager in Gloucester, then North Adams and finally to his present post as district manager in the enlarged Lynn-Salem district. A native of Hamilton, McVey attended the Bentley School and Franklin Technical Institute.

Among the activities which have made McVey's name widely known on the North Shore are his Trusteeship at the Lynn Hospital, Director of the Lynn Red Cross, Director of the Chamber of Commerce, Commissioner of the Lynn Renewal Authority, Director of the Massachusetts Bay United Fund and his Trusteeship in the Lynn Institute for Savings.

Family Night Planned At Church

A Family Night will be held at Faith Lutheran Church this Sunday, Nov. 14, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. A chicken supper will be provided and women of the Church will provide dessert. Mrs. Linda Corry of Andover is in charge of the supper arrangements.

The program will begin with a film presentation by John McMurray, a member of the congregation who is on the staff of the art department of Phillips Academy. John will share some reflections through film on God and stewardship. Following this, the younger children will see a film entitled Stewart the Steward and His Magic Offering Plate, while the older members take a look at a Profile of Faith Lutheran.

James Reinker, stewardship chairman, and Pastor Donald Myrom will be in charge of the presentation.

OOPS. Andover player just misses a pass thrown his way by quarterback Scott Seero in Saturday's 22-8 win over Burlington. While this pass eluded the receiver it was only one of very few misses the Golden Warriors made in an impressive homecoming day victory over a powerful Burlington eleven.

Warriors In Homecoming Win

By Brian J. Sullivan

Andover High School's first annual homecoming was a great success last weekend and to top things off, Andover's football team and quarterback Scott Seero romped over the Burlington Red Devils to the tune of 22-8.

It seemed that Andover could do no wrong. The defense was especially strong, about the most effective they have been all season, with Jeff Towne and Ron "Snake" Stahley turning in the big plays. Towne, who has played particularly well in the last three or four games, played another very good game coming up with two fumble recoveries, making several tackles from his line-backer position. Stahley has been playing consistently well for Andover without much acclaim, but last week Ron made his first interception of the season.

But the real story came on offense and Scott Seero was the star. Beautiful blocking by the backfield and line saved the road for two Seero touchdowns in the first quarter.

The Red Devils hadn't crossed midfield when disaster struck. On the opening series they fumbled, and Towne rescued the ball for Andover. Jason Day, Arthur DeMoulas and Phil Iannazzi brought the Warriors on the ground to the seven-yard line and a first down. Seero rolled to the left tackle and kept the ball on a pitch-or-run option play, when a big hole opened in the line. Seero made a beautiful fake on his defender, turned in and had seven quick yards and his first touchdown. His extra point kick was good to make the score 7-0.

Burlington fumbled the ball away immediately on their next series and Towne rescued it again, crawling over a pile of five players to get it. Scotty did it all alone on the next scoring drive.

His first run was for seven yards, then a pass to John Farnham just missed. Scott was still in possession on the 15 yard line when he went to the option run again. Faking his defender artistically again, he raced 15 yards over empty terrain, as the line again broke a big hole in the Devil's defense.

Burlington was forced to punt and Seero was off again with his mighty Warriors, DeMoulas and Iannazzi brought Andover to the Devil 20-yard line. Here the drive stalled, but Coach Collins went with Seero and sure-footed Scott booted the field goal to make the score 16-0.

Late in the half, Andover punted and Burlington drove to the 4-yard line. On 4th and two to go for a first down on the two, Paul Maguire threw to Chris Mullen in the endzone, but Phil Dawicki batted it loose to break up the play. That's how the half ended -- 16-0 Andover.

Andover got the kickoff and an exchange of punts followed. Andover, deep in their own end, couldn't get going and kicked again. Billerica then started their only scoring drive.

Kevin McCafferty and Paul Foretra brought the Devils to the 2-yard line. McCafferty went over from the two on a draw and the two-point conversion run by him was also good, making the score 16-8.

Seero was forced to punt again and really came through. His punt went 68 yards and left the Devils on their own 20-yard line. Maguire fumbled on the 18 and Andover recovered again.

Seero started with the option run again and picked up two yards. Then he threw to Fob Farnham on a cross pattern. Farnham made a fabulous move on his defender and left him standing flat-footed as Fob scampered, unscathed, into the endzone.

Some great kicks by Seero followed during the rest of the game, but the defense took over now. They intercepted a pass and batted another to save a score. John Brennan batted the ball and the interception was by Stahley on the 50-yard line.

When the game ended, Burlington had the ball, but in the game the offense of Andover had the ball over 3/4 of the game. To be sure, Burlington did not play well but the Warriors also completely outplayed them and when you don't have the ball you can't score or win.

Andover faces Methuen at Methuen at 1:30 on Saturday. Come one, Come all.

This team is worth watching when they perform as they did against Burlington.

The Recreation Department's "30 and Over" Basketball League started its fifth season of formal play last Thursday at the high school gym.

In the first game the Embassy began its season with a win as they defeated the West Andover Padres 51 to 29. The Embassy's attack was led by Don Strong's 16 points and Thomas's and Torissi's 10 points. For the Padres, Capolna had 13 points and Torissi 10.

In the second game the Strobes defeated the Pick-ups 30 to 29. As the game see-sawed, Travis led the Strobes in scoring with 10 points and MacPherson had 8. For the Pick-ups, Monette had 10 and LaPointe 9 points.

In the final game of the night, Dana's defeated the Sweepers 55 to 26 as Purdy and Twomey scored 16 and 15 points respectively. Ken Schenck had 18 points in a losing effort for the Sweepers.

BULLETIN:

Bay State National Bank

will double your money

in 12 years and 20 days . . .

no matter what happens ### to interest rates.

We guarantee it!

Introducing our new Golden Growth Bond (Double-Your-Money)™. With guaranteed 5.75 % interest per year, compounded daily (A yield of 5.918% per annum). In just over 12 years it's worth twice what you paid for it.

Special notice to Holders of Master Charge™ Cards:
You can use your Master Charge Card to double your money. Get a Master Charge cash advance of $50 or more then double it with a Bay State National Golden Growth Bond.

No one knows what the future holds for interest rates and market conditions. It may be up — or down.

But Bay State National Bank's new Golden Growth Bonds just grow and grow for you. As a matter of fact, they actually guarantee to double your money!

And at an annual interest rate of 5¾ percent. Guaranteed. And compounded daily.

And you don't have to be a big saver to buy them. You can buy a $25 bond for just $12.50. And you can buy them in any amount beyond that.

So, if you're a small saver, you can put aside $12.50 or $17.89 or $29.13 or whatever amount you have — then watch your money double in value.

Or, if you're a big investor you can set aside $4,783.21 or $18,792.81 or $50,209.03 or whatever large amount you might want to protect . . . and double!

No matter what amount you buy, your Golden Growth Bond will be worth twice what you paid for it in just 12 years and 20 days.

And, if you can't wait that long for your money you can get it back without notice on any two year anniversary of its issue date. Or during the 10 days following. And you still get 5¾ percent interest!

But, if you're smart, you'll wait to maturity. And double your money.

CAR TALK

IGNITION SYSTEM TROUBLEMAKERS

When spark timing is off, your car can suffer multiple ills such as missing, power loss, poor gas mileage, rough idle, and overheating.

A common cause of poor timing is incorrectly gapped distributor points. If the points are gapped too narrowly, timing will be retarded with the resultant loss in gas mileage and engine power. On the other hand, if the points are set too wide, the most serious threat is spark knock or ping - which could cause engine damage.

Other frequent ignition-system troublemakers are cables, particularly loose or corrosion-blocked connections, which are simple to correct. Dried out or leaky cable insulation can also bring on hard-starting and performance headaches. Such conditions are sometimes announced via a mysterious cracking or snapping noise under the hood.

Don't let anybody kid you! Your car - not your dog - is your best friend. And you can depend on us to give it the care it deserves. All service and workmanship guaranteed. Full line of Mobil products. Complete auto repair, towing and road service. TOM'S DEN ROCK SERVICE, Route 114 opposite Holiday Inn, No. Andover. Tel: 687-9157. 24-Hr. Ice Cube Vending.

ONLY SCORE. Burlington's Bill McCafferty chugs through on a seven yard touchdown run to gain the visitor's only scoring in Andover's 22-8 homecoming win last Saturday at Lovely field.

LEAD THE WAY. Jimmy Connor, a back on the West Junior High freshman football team, makes good yardage when he has the blocking provided by Mark Hamilton and Steve Banton. The club has compiled an impressive record to date this season.

Annual Y Meeting To Be Tuesday

The Andover Branch of the Greater Lawrence Y.M.C.A. will hold its third annual meeting next Tuesday, Nov. 16, 7:30 p.m. in the YMCA gym, 10 Brook St.

Adult friends and adult members of the YMCA are cordially invited to attend the program which will feature reports of program progress during the past year and status of developing plans for a new family-type YMCA building.

A brief business meeting will include election of directors and officers. President Fred Harrison will chair the business meeting. Ronald E. Guitarr is chairman of the annual meeting committee.

Basketball League Opens Saturday

The Andover YMCA Boys Basketball League program starts this Saturday, Nov. 13. All boys must be registered for the program at the YMCA office prior to attending the first session. The program will be conducted in age divisions, as usual, with a boy's age on Thanksgiving Day deciding his age for the entire season.

Eight year old boys will participate in a special skills coaching program plus informal play; all other age groups will play an intra-mural league schedule of games with awards to the winning teams. Boys will be assigned to teams with the strength of the teams equalized and each boy will play at least half the playing time regardless of his ability.

Interested fathers and other men of the community will serve as coaches and officials. Those interested should contact YMCA Physical Director Walter J. Kimball, Sr., who will supervise the program which will be directed by veteran YMCA leader Frank Monette.

On Nov. 13 and 20 the schedule will be as follows: Pee-Wee Division (9-10 years) meet at the YMCA, 10 Brook St., 1-2 p.m.; Junior Division (11-12 years) at the Regional Tech. Gym, River Road, West Andover, 2-3 p.m.; Intermediate Division (13-14 years) Regional Tech Gym, 3-4 p.m. Note: 8-year olds will start on Nov. 27 at the YMCA 2:30-3:30 p.m.

Winter Sports Sale Scheduled

The Governor Dummer Academy Allies will hold a Winter Sports Sale of good used ski and skate equipment on Nov. 18, 19 and 20 at 1 Pleasant St., Newburyport. This is a great opportunity to both sell and buy skis, skates, parkas, hockey equipment, etc.

On Thursday, Nov. 18, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. articles to be sold may be brought in, tagged with name, address, size and owners selling price. If sold, 50 percent of price is returned to seller.

Sale Days: Friday, Nov. 19, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Saturday, Nov. 20, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The Allies is an organization dedicated to supporting worthwhile special projects at Governor Dummer Academy.

Local people chairmen of this sale are Mrs. John McClement and Mrs. David M. Thompson of Andover.

Completing Slab At Park

Installation of a concrete slab in Recreation Park is about one-third complete, according to Public Works Director Robert McQuade.

The slab is to be used as a skating rink in winter months and for basketball, volleyball or tennis in the summer months.

Completion of the installation is expected within the week.

Wreath Making

Does anyone want help in making decorations for the holiday season? Memorial Hall Library is offering a class in making wreaths, swags, centerpieces, etc. The class will be taught by Mrs. Irene Herndon of Andover and will be held on three consecutive Monday mornings, Nov. 22, Nov. 29 and Dec. 6. It will last about two hours from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and will be held in the Print Room on the top floor of the library. It is not necessary to register for the class, but please call the library if you are interested in attending. Persons taking the classes should bring with them on Nov. 22 the following items: coat hanger, pen-knife, scissors, fresh evergreen branches, if you have them in your yard, and a styrofoam wreath of whatever size fits your door the best. Please make arrangements for your small children at home.

Fashion Show

The Memorial Hall Library Fashion Show will be held on Wednesday morning, Nov. 17 at 10 o'clock. The Fashion Show will be over at 11:30 a.m. The commentator will be Mrs. Anna Manzi. Coffee will be served and mothers of small children are requested to make other arrangements than the Children's Room for the children. A regular program will be in progress in the Children's Room and there will be no available space for additional children.

Opera Club
The Library Opera Club will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, Nov. 18 at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ashton Smith, 158 Dale St., North Andover. If you would like directions in getting to Mrs. Smith's home, please call the library. The meetings of the Library Opera Club are open to all residents of the Merrimack Valley, the only requirement being that you like opera and want to listen to the music. A fee of $1 is being charged per person to cover the expenses of Mrs. Bertheim who teaches the group.

Civilization
The first film in a series of thirteen color films of CIVILIZATION was well attended for both the 1 p.m. and the 8 p.m. showings. As a result of poor acoustics in the auditorium of the library, the film will be presented with a different projector from now on so that the sound of Sir Kenneth Clark's voice will be clearer. This Tuesday, the 9th, the film is called "The Great Thaw" and it covers the period of the 12th century when "Western Europe came alive." Next Tuesday, the 16th, is the period of the Gothic world when chivalry and courtly love abounded, romance was expressed in works of art and literature, and St. Francis preached his words of kindness and love. Come to the library on Tuesday either at 1 p.m. or at 8 p.m., and follow the course of western man in his development to the present time.

Loan

Starting this week all Christmas craft books will be on one-week loans. Start early if you intend to make your gifts this year. There are never enough how-to books to go around when the Christmas season comes, but everyone will have a chance to make his gifts if books are taken out early and returned on time.

Discussion

On Monday, Nov. 15, the Noon-time Book Discussion Group will meet in the Print Room at 1 p.m. to talk about The Feastly Featitudes of Balthazar B by Donleavy. The public is invited to attend this group which is sponsored by the library and the American Association of University Women. Miss Mary Lynch, Children's Librarian, will lead the discussion.

Israeli Film To Be Shown

The adult program committee of the Jewish Community Center will present the Israeli film "Lupo" on Saturday, Nov. 13, at 8 p.m. This Israeli film in English has been compared with "Zorba, the Greek" and "Fiddler On The Roof."

Starring Yuda Barkan, this film is a tale about a folk hero in the tradition of "Fiddler On The Roof" and "Zorba, the Greek," who wages a hilarious war against modernization. "Lupo" was filmed in color on location in Tel Aviv.

The film is open to the public.

Violinist In Concert

STYLE OF THE MONTH

Belgian violinist, Pierre d'Archangeau, will give a concert Friday, Nov. 19, at 7 p.m. at Abbot Academy in Davis Hall. The concert is free and open to the public.

Mr. d'Archangeau is from a family of musicians going back four generations on both his parents' sides. His father, Yevan, was the cellist of the well-known Flonzaley Quartet.

Pierre d'Archangeau gave his first violin recital at age nine. Since then he has concertized throughout Europe, the Middle East and this country. He won the International Competition in Geneva in 1948 and was laureate of the Queen Elizabeth of Belgium Competition in 1951. In 1967 he won the Medal of the Eugene Ysaye Foundation.

Vehicles

their use by cycle and snowmobile enthusiasts.

Commenting on police enforcement, Mrs. Hammond said it is difficult to have the local department working in this area when more important calls must be made.

All such vehicles must have registrations this year, obtainable from the state division of motorboats.

The conservationist, joined by Mrs. Watters Kellogg, also of the Conservation Commission, noted that the cycles were a "nuisance and destructive." It was pointed out that plantings in the Essex Sand and Gravel pit to prevent erosion had been destroyed by the cycling activity.

Selectman Sidney P. White said there was a problem with the vehicles, but felt some policies could be established to allow these hobbyists to continue their activity within limitations, such as time of use and locations.

Mrs. Hammond said that possibly some areas could be allowed, but the age-old problem of where was difficult to solve.

With Andover such a highly residential community, it is difficult to find a location which would be agreeable to abutters, she said.

The selectmen and the conservation commission, agreed to talk further about the subject, with Mrs. Hammond suggesting the matter be discussed in executive session, relative to a proposed site.

North School

this approach spread by next fall throughout the special education classes — for the trainable and educable mentally retarded and the emotionally disturbed children of the Greater Lawrence communities.

"Greater Lawrence already has the resources and personnel," the mental health supervisor said, "to develop more effective programs than any of the four communities have now." He pointed out that not only the ability spread, but the age spread could be cut by cooperative classes, so that more and better peer relationships develop: some students could be served that now have no programs at all. Furthermore, through a cooperative program offering more levels, special class students would have the added stimulation of moving through several classes and teachers in a number of years, instead of staying in one class for five and six years. "No matter how good and dedicated a special class teacher is," Ferris claims, "after several years' work with a student, she is likely to become conditioned to his handicap, and not press him toward overcoming or improving as a new teacher would."

Clapp hopes to implement the pre-vocational program in the West Andover Community Center during this school year — as soon as necessary changes and repairs can make the Center, once Andover's old North School, meet modern state safety codes. The school department hoped for the selectmen's action Monday night, on Clapp's request that a technically competent person be appointed to determine the extent of repairs and changes necessary, but the selectmen have put the decision off for two weeks, pending more information. Clapp expressed appreciation for the action of the West Andover Community Association, and the Association, in turn, wants to be sure that their offer to share the building will not make it unavailable for other uses by the Association and other community groups.

It's beginning to look as though old schools never die, and don't even fade away!

the Gas company and the state to come and rectify the problem.

If no action is taken soon, he said he will suggest the selectmen step in and call utility company and state officials and demand remedy to the problem.

The DPW director said the town would be faced with a definite problem, if the conditions are not corrected soon. The piles are left in such a way that winter conditions could result in a hazardous roadway if not corrected.

Highway Supt. Stanley Chlebowski has also been working on the problem.

State crews have informed local officials that they will not be able to return to the job site until Saturday.

McQuade wants the problem corrected before then if possible.

IRS

Mr. Seufert, 47, graduated from the University of Maryland in 1970 with a B.A. degree in business administration. He is married to the former Colleen Delaney of St. Joseph. They have seven children.

The Andover Service Center processes approximately 18 million individual and corporate returns each year, from the state of New York and New England. The taxes total $44 billion which is approximately 22 percent of the total IRS collections.

Y Skating Program To Begin

The Andover YMCA Fall Term ice skating program will start next week at the Phillips Academy rink. The Fall courses run for a period of five weeks. Other and longer courses will be scheduled during the YMCA Winter Term program which starts in January.

A women's skating course will be offered on five Tuesdays starting Nov. 16, 9 - 11 a.m., instructor Mrs. Jean DeLisio. Informal skating will be scheduled throughout the two hours. Enrollees desiring beginner's figure skating instruction will participate in an instruction program from 9:30 - 10:15 a.m. An intermediate instruction group will be available from 10:15 - 11 a.m. Enrollees must supply own skates. A sitting service is provided for children at the YMCA building, 10 Brook St. No children will be allowed at the rink.

On Nov. 17, a Mom-Preschooler ice skating program will start. The group will meet on five Wednesdays 9 - 10 a.m. and is open to a mother and one or more preschool children of any age. The mother is entirely responsible for the care and instruction of her children.

TYPES OF MORTGAGES

There are many types of mortgages that can be placed as lien against a real estate property. Do you know what they are?

If you bought a home under an F.H.A. loan you have a first mortgage. This loan is insured and guaranteed by an agency of the government. As a result the risk to the lender is diminished.

A purchase money mortgage is when you buy new or additional real estate. You give the seller a mortgage on other properties you own as part payment.

The blanket mortgage covers more than one parcel of property you may wish to borrow on.

An open end mortgage permits the borrower to pay it off at any time he is able or wishes to do so.

A second mortgage is given to the seller of property by the buyer as part of the selling price. This mortgage is subordinate to the first mortgage. Your Realtor is the man to talk to about mortgages.

Do you have special real estate problems? Why not let us solve them! JAMES T. TREFREY, REALTOR is proud to offer you a complete real estate service. A qualified staff member is always on hand to serve you when you deal with us... and we've got over 30 years of experience! See us soon: JAMES T. TREFREY, REALTOR, 5 Lowell St., phone 475-0622. ## Gay 90's Theme For Church Fair

"Gay Nineties" costumes to be worn by workers at the Andover Baptist Church Fair this Saturday, Nov. 13, will add another festive note to the "Olde Tyme Harvest Fair" theme according to Mr. and Mrs. Al Evans, chairmen of the decorating committee.

Excitement is running high as the committees have been ironing out final details at work nights in the church all this week. It was announced that Emerson

Wilson, treasurer of the church, and Miss Carol Stocks, treasurer of the Friendly Circle will be working together at the fair to handle funds, making change, etc. Members and friends of the church are reminded that all funds raised at the Fair will be for the new area just completed below the vestry and everyone is invited to visit the new facilities and enjoy the fair from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"Coffee-breakers" will find homemade doughnuts and muffins to eat there, or take out. A quick lunch may be had of sandwiches, dessert squares, tea and coffee from noon to four, and home-made beans will be sold to take home for Saturday night supper. Hot dogs, tonic and other snacks will be available all day.

Red Cross Board Meets

A meeting of the board of directors of the Andover Red Cross will be held Tuesday, Nov. 16 at 7:30 p.m. at the Chapter House.

Anthony S. DiDio, chairman will welcome new directors at an informal coffee prior to the business session. Elected at the recent annual meeting for three year terms were Mrs. David A. Fleming, Jr., who will serve as secretary, John C. Johnson, Mrs. Robert E. Lane, Mrs. William N. Perry and Atty. Andrew F. Shea; and for terms of one year, Lawrence Farrington, and Miss Deborah E. Towne, who is a student at Andover High. This is the first time that a student has been so honored.

Re-elected for a second three year term were Elmer S. Ober, Dr. Calvin G. Perry and Mrs. Joseph J. Tavern.

Mrs. Frank VanVleet, 112 Dascomb Road.

To Be Honored

The S. W. Chesterson Company will entertain its 150 employees next week at the Provincetown Inn on Cape Cod, for the 14th consecutive year. The occasion is the 87 year old company's annual Achievement Weekend.

Time For Thanksgiving Planning

Now is the time to be planning your Thanksgiving menu, with The Thanksgiving holidays just a couple of weeks away, according to the Mass. Dept. of Agriculture. There are many items you can prepare ahead of time, thus easing your list of things to do as the holiday gets closer.

Many Massachusetts turkey raisers are offering fresh-killed birds at retail to the public. Some will even roast the turkey for you, but this will have to be determined by contacting the individual turkey ranches. It's a good idea to plan early and place your order as soon as possible. This will effectively avoid the rush and give you time to plan other things.

After placing your turkey order you can set about to prepare other good things for the feast table, well in advance.

Buy some of the many varieties of winter squash which, under refrigeration, will keep right through the holidays. You can make your squash and pumpkin pies now and freeze them till the big day. The same advice holds true for home-made apple and mince pies... traditional for a real New England Thanksgiving dinner.

Don't forget the cranberries. You can make several different styles of cranberry sauces and relish to grace your festive table. And, once again, they can be made in advance and refrigerated.

We do recommend, however, that other vegetables and potatoes be cooked the morning of the meal. These will retain more of their original flavor if eaten soon after being cooked.

But, by preparing what you can in advance, you'll have much more time on Thanksgiving day to spend with your family and friends. And, isn't this what Thanksgiving is all about?

Kennel Wins First Prize In East

Donnington Kennel, Newton, N.H., breeders of Irish Setters, announced today a first in the east for their breed. One year ago Ken and Ann Robie, owners of Donnington Kennel, proudly finished the field championship of the first New England bred male Irish Setter in American Kennel Club history to attain that title, Field Champion Donnington Buckpasser, for the last year the only living field champion east of Michigan. Today the Robies add to that achievement a show champion, Ch. Donnington Chantilly, and a second field champion, Field Champion Donnington Crackerjack, pending A.K.C. confirmation.

With the exception of a kennel in Michigan and one in California, Donnington Kennel is, at this time, the only breeder of Irish Setters in recent (30 years) American Kennel Club records to produce two field champions as well as the only living littermates who are field and show champions.

Mrs. Robie, the former Ann H. Sherman, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland H. Sherman, formerly of Central St.

The greatest recorded performance in apple picking was by Ray Craig at Ben Nardie's fruit farm in Indiana in October, 1967. He picked 150 bushels in only eight hours.

Boy Scout Troop 75 On Camp Out

St. Augustine's Boy Scout Troop 75 will hold a Camp-Out Nov. 12, 13 and 14 at the Deer Jump Reservation.

The scouts will leave St. Augustine's church parking lot at 6 p.m. Friday.

The scouts will be working in patrols during the weekend, with each patrol responsible for its own cooking. A patrol competition event is planned for Saturday afternoon. The highlight of the weekend will be the Barbecued Chicken Dinner, to which each father has been invited, followed by an Advancement ceremony led by Paul Reynolds.

The Camp-Out will end Sunday with a hike back to the church parking lot. For additional information, contact Charles Champagne.

Silent Films To Be Shown At Castle

The silent movie "The Eagle" with Rudolph Valentino and Vilma Banky, will be shown at the Hammond Castle in Gloucester, on Saturday, Nov. 27 at 8:15 p.m. Rudolph Valentino remained the symbol of glamour and romance on the silent screen, just as Chaplin represented laughter and Fairbanks represented adventure.

Valentino died Aug. 23, 1926, and the reaction was staggering grief, hysteria and an unbound sorrow that movie goers shared the world over. In his next-to-last role Valentino played "Dubrovsky" in "The Eagle."

The movie is 70 minutes and will be shown by Henderson Stern of Marblehead, and accompanied on the great pipe organ by Al Winslow of Foxboro. There will also be a Laurel and Hardy silent comedy on the program.

Tickets are available at the Hammond Castle box office, 283-2080 and should be reserved in advance.

COGNAC BRANDY

The most famous and most highly regarded of all brandies is Cognac. All Cognac is brandy, but there is only one brandy that can be called Cognac. It is distilled from a wine produced in a specific location just above Bordeaux, France where the climate and soil, plus time-tested distilling methods and years of aging in oak casks, produce this rare and fiery liquid. It takes 40 to 50 years to produce a great brandy, 8 to 10 years to make a good one.

VSOP on the label of a cognac bottle means "very superior old pale"; VO means "very old"; OC is "old cognac"; VVG is "very very good" and Three Star indicates a good blend.

Cognac is a favorite after-dinner liquor but also is served "on the rocks" or as a highball with soda or water. It's the gourmet's choice for flaming food.

You are invited to send in any questions on the subject of wine or spirits and I'll be happy to answer them personally or in print. Our way of saying "Thank you" is by always offering you the finest quality of wines and spirits and the very best values and service at DEN ROCK LIQUOR MART, No. Andover Mall (Route 114). ## Auditor To Address Accountants

The Merrimack Valley Chapter of The National Association of Accountants will hold their November technical meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 17 at the Andover Country Club at 6:30 p.m. preceded by a social hour.

The speaker for the evening will be Thaddeus Buczko, State Auditor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. His presentation for the evening will be "The Role of the Auditor in State Government." Mr. Buczko has held his present elected position since 1964 and is currently serving his third term.

He has distinguished himself by his devotion to public service. He has served as postmaster of Salem, as member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, and as Salem City Councillor.

Born in Salem, he was graduated from Salem Classical and High School; received a B.A. degree with honors from Norwich University where he majored in government; and an L.L.B. degree from Boston University School of Law in 1951.

State Auditor Buczko was admitted to the practice of law in Massachusetts on Nov. 1, 1951 and has been admitted to the practice of law before the U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts; the U.S. Court of Military Appeals, Washington, D.C. and the Supreme Court of the United States of America, Washington, D.C. as well as the U.S. Court of Claims, Washington, D.C.

His memberships include the Federal Bar Association, the Massachusetts Trial Lawyers Association, the American, Massachusetts, Boston, Essex County, and Salem Bar Associations. He is Vice President of the Norwich University Alumni Association.

Standard Sets New Records

Standard International Corporation (NYSE) reported that first fiscal quarter earnings set new records in the period ended September 30, 1971 with earnings per share rising seven percent before extraordinary items over the prior year's figures. Net sales for the quarter declined six percent from the record results which -- in last year's quarter -- included sales of about $3 million in operations which have since been sold.

Standard International President Daniel E. Hogan indicated that the earnings results point to "a resumption of our growth trend" after three successive quarters of lower year-to-year corporate earnings, and he expressed confidence that fiscal 1972 would show "a substantial increase in operating earnings as well as a sales increase over last year." He said that, while much would depend on overall economic conditions in the months ahead, "many of our divisions are already beginning to feel the favorable effects of recent government actions."

First quarter earnings (before extraordinary items) amounted to $.30 per share, compared with $.28 a year ago. Net income amounted to $1,161,000 before extraordinary items on net sales of $26,786,000, compared with last year's income of $1,109,000 on sales of $28,485,000 in the same period. In addition, Standard International realized extraordinary net income of $300,000 after taxes, or an additional $.08 per share in the latest quarter. Last year's figures include the sales and earnings of the Edward Weck subsidiary which was sold to Squibb Corporation in May, 1971. All figures are adjusted to include pooling-of-interests acquisitions.

Mr. Hogan stated that some divisions continue to be affected by the sluggish economy, while the pace of business at other divisions has shown considerable improvement. He added that earnings improvement will also be realized this year by the elimination of the Master Etching division, a nameplate manufacturer which suffered "significant losses over the past year." Mr. Hogan said that division has been closed down as of September 1, and added that Miller Dial, Standard's other nameplate operation, has "turned around" and is now operating on a profitable basis. Mr. Hogan said that first quarter earnings were affected by the seven-week strike at Standard's newly-acquired Spin-craft metal spinning operation but added that he foresees no other major labor difficulties in fiscal 1972. He also commented on the lingering effects of a recent Club Products strike and indicated that normal productivity still has not been achieved at that major division.

Mr. Hogan stated that the earnings of A. T. Cross, the writing instrument manufacturer in which Standard has a 35 percent interest, continues to grow at a rate "in excess of 20 percent per year." In the calendar nine months ending September 30, 1971, A. T. Cross reported earnings of $1,379,000 or $.69 per share, up 23 percent, as compared with last year's $1,118,000 or $.56 per share. A. T. Cross plans to expand its operations via establishment of a manufacturing facility in Southern Ireland, Mr. Hogan stated. He added that the continuing growth of A. T. Cross will have a very favorable effect on Standard's earnings in the future, since Standard's equity in the income of A. T. Cross is included in Standard's earnings report.

Standard International has recently announced plans for the secondary public offering of its 200,000 shares of Squibb Corporation common stock, which were acquired in the sale of the Edward Weck division to Squibb. The shares have been registered and Standard plans to use the funds obtained "in a manner which will enhance Standard's growth in earnings per share," Mr. Hogan stated. He added that several potential acquisitions are now under active negotiation.

Regarding Standard's strong financial condition, Mr. Hogan said that "at a time when many com-

Music To Our Ears

By Edward P. Grigoli
Director of Music

People who can think only of a court dance when they hear a minuet from an early symphony do not hear music for what it is. Similarly, to attach stories, pictures or meanings to pure or abstract music is to drag it from its high and unique place and to invite an imaginative rather than a purely sensuous and emotional response.

Therefore, if music which speaks for itself is not only the purest but the most embracing form of art, we have to consider how far music may be restricted or even debased by extraneous associations, and how far composers may legitimately stray into the easy by ways of description. There also is the question as to whether abstract elements may find a place in apparently descriptive music. The most interesting and most often quoted example of the merging of abstract and programme qualities is Beethoven's "Pastoral Symphony." On the strength of this the "programme" partisans claim the composer as one of their own.

But a very significant point must be brought up. Beethoven added to the symphony's title, "More an expression of feeling, than a painting." The following notes from Beethoven's sketch-book stresses the point - "All painting in instrumental music, if pushed too far, is a failure." "Pastoral Symphony - no picture, but something in which the emotions are expressed which are aroused in men by the pleasure of the country."

Worming Their Way To Warmth

By Wayne Hanley

A Brownie troop leader recently asked where earthworms go in winter.

Then, as an afterthought, asked: "By the way what were earthworms doing all summer?"

Not bad questions. Particularly since she knew so little about earthworms that she thought they were insects.

Earthworms now are wriggling their way down below the winter frost line. They spend their lives following the rise and descent of water in the soil, seeking damp but not watery locations. In the heat of summer when soil dries beyond the usual depth, earthworms work their way down to moisture.

It was the bane of my boyhood that in Midwest prairie country earthworms dug themselves into the deepest depth during the dry season when fishing was best in the shrinking water holes. To find bait, one had to seek some barnyard manure pile and dig under it where some moisture remained.

On warm nights, earthworms come to the soil surface and eat dead leaves and other detritus. One sometimes can capture earthworms on the surface at night during the season when they are too deep to dig in daylight.

Charles Darwin, the evolution man, was the first publicist for the earthworm. He found them among the most important animals in the world. Darwin said that in optimum situations as many as 50,000 earthworms may live beneath one acre. He estimated that in a year the earthworms would bring 18 tons of enriched soil to the surface and that in 20 years they might add three inches of rich top soil.

The value of organism that spend much time underground frequently is overlooked. The plowing of the earth and loosening of soil that permits penetration of water and air is most important for vegetation. The work of everything from earthworms to woodchucks and badgers in mixing soil prevents leaching of valuable minerals below a level that plant roots penetrate.

Unlike grubs, which are juvenile insects which eventually will transform into a flying adult, earthworms are always earthworms from birth to death. They are a different form of life, called annelid worms. The rubbery band which one may find wrapped around some earthworms is an egg capsule. The worm eventually sheds the capsule over its head and the eggs hatch in two or three weeks.

Despite their general appearance of an unorganized rubber hose, earthworms have a head and tail. They also have an underside and topside. The underside has numerous tiny bristles which aid the worm in crawling. In addition, the worm is capable of excreting a sticky mucus which enables it to glide across smooth surfaces, even polished glass.

Boston's Old City Hall On Exhibition

Photographer William Clift's exhibition, "Old City Hall," at the Addison Gallery of American Art, shows how a sensitively used camera can authentically bring to gallery goers "the feeling of nostalgia of an edifice used for many years." The words are those of the Gallery's director for this year, Gene Pyle, a noted camera-artist himself.

The entire exhibition is devoted to the architectural splendors of Boston's vacated City Hall. Clift's camera emphasizes architectural elements which are also described in the exhibition's pamphlet - "the elegance of the facade, the astonishing variety of the interior - the large airy offices on the main floor that recall ballrooms."

The exhibit draws particular attention to the qualities of the City Council Chamber, with its pillared balconies, which remind one of old churches of New England.

William Clift, a professional photographer for six years, works from his studio, Helios, in Cambridge. His landscape photographs have been featured in one-man shows in New York, Boston and Eugene, Oregon. He is now considering a topic for another Boston project.

Sparrows Are Many And Varied

Why did Nature turn out so many models of sparrows but fail to change their appearance?

If you have bothered to look over the sparrows now passing through New England, you probably are aware of the similarity of many species. For instance, consider Roger Tory Peterson's comment on the field sparrow: "Except for the pink bill, it resembles the tree sparrow and the chipping sparrow." Well, there are other differences and all experienced birders know them. But it takes time to become an experienced birder.

Take for instance the familiar song sparrow. If you expect young song sparrows to look like adult song sparrows, you're in for a disappointment. The heavily-streaked breast and large central breast spot are missing. So is the relatively long tail. As Chandler Robbins remarks in his field guide: "Short-tailed juvenile, which lacks central breast spot, can be mistaken for Savannah (sparrow)." Indeed, it can -- and has been.

What adds to the confusion, of course, is the fact that juvenile birds at this season outnumber the adults. If one has spent spring and summer mastering the few distinctive marks that adults bear, he now finds weed patches overrun by sparrows that look unlike any that he has seen before.

While we will not bother the printer to set gobs of Greek or Latin that few persons read, we can dispatch the scientific grouping of sparrows with the statement that look-alikes in general are grouped together as cousins. But there are exceptions even in that. For instance, the swamp sparrow always looks to me like a chipping sparrow wearing a dark suit. The two species even have a quite similar song in spring. But scientists separate them, wedging two groups of cousins between them.

Editorial Comment

Recreation

The appointment this week of a committee to study the community school concept for the town's recreation program seems advisable.

For many years now, Andover has been studying recreation programs.

During this period many recommendations have come forth, some adopted, some turned aside.

A full time recreation department has been in operation for nearly a decade. Its responsibilities and accomplishments have not been what one might consider noteworthy, either through lack of sufficient town support or direction.

The school department has slowly been offering recreation facilities for community use. Danger is that the school department may offer a recreation program, superseding town authority through its autonomous budget procedures.

Now, a study is to be made of the feasibility of using the town's facilities (school buildings) to implement the municipal recreation program.

Already some of the committee members have been obtaining some insight into the community school concept by attending seminars and hearing of the experience gained by other towns and cities.

The overall study should prove to be worthwhile.

Andover has continually expressed a desire for a town-sponsored recreation program.

To adequately accomplish this, use of municipal facilities should be taken into consideration.

The town has many millions of dollars invested in school buildings. Use of the structures is limited.

Use of the facilities during non-school hours for municipal purposes, such as a recreation program, seems advisable and in keeping with conducting of such a program economically.

More Study

Downtown Andover is currently under extensive examination by study groups and consultants.

With such activity, we hope that some action will be forthcoming, as expected, to Andover's traffic and parking problems in the downtown area.

Consultants are presently examining the Main street from Shawsheen square to the Academy to determine if and where some traffic controls should be placed.

Another group has been retained by the planning board to study downtown parking problems.

On top of this there are recommendations, committees studying committees, etc.

Through it all, sometime early in 1972, hopefully, the town may have some recommendations regarding better traffic and parking conditions on Main street.

Meanwhile, motorists and pedestrians should continue to outguess each other at parking lot entrances and exits, despite current regulations.

All day parkers in municipal lots could also provide a service by possibly posting the lot they won't be using should they decide to take a day off, while the study proceeds.

Hopefully these studies will be brought to a fruitful conclusion soon in an effort to resolve some downtown problems.

Finally

The selectmen, this week, took cognizance of a problem long existent in the town, that of mini-bikes, motorcycles and snowmobiles on town-owned land.

Despite the fact that these all-terrain vehicles have been running over town property for some time, the board has just now observed that there is a problem.

This week, conservation commission members met with the board to discuss the matter.

Both agreed the vehicles are a problem and a nuisance.

Both seem agreed that conservation and town-owned land should be preserved, spared from such vehicles.

They also feel that the enthusiasts should have some place to exercise their hobbies, but where?

Now that the problem is thoroughly realized, it is expected that some official recognition will be given the matter and strict rules and regulations established.

While the dust of the past summer is beginning to settle with the abandoning of the 'cycles due to weather, it would be wise to establish sound policies to prevent another summer of noise and dust roaring from abandoned gravel pits, etc.

Noisy snowmobiles must also be regulated, and the time to do so is now.

That the town's official boards have recognized the problem is good. The conservation commission has been aware of the problem for some time and now hopefully will be able to enforce regulations with the co-operation of the selectmen.

What Our Readers Say

Editor's Note: Letters to the editor are encouraged and accepted according to simple guidelines. Letters should not exceed 300 words in length and must be signed. No letters will be published without signatures.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

There has been justifiable condemnation of the boisterous behavior at the October Town Meeting. This centered upon articles proposing three condominium complexes, which were decisively rejected.

To achieve a proper perspective, however, it must be remembered that, although 27 percent of Andover's housing units are apartments, which are believed to be enough to meet the needs of those who desire them, Andover has long been committed to a town based primarily on single residences. Not only would further apartment complexes change the character of the town, but they would increase population density, with resulting expenses caused by the required expansion of municipal services.

Apprehension has been aroused as it is seen that the surrounding communities are being filled with apartment complexes. These have met with strong opposition, but without avail. Andover, alone, has been able to control the situation, because it has better zoning, and a two-thirds vote at the Town Meeting is required to change the zoning. The Town Meeting has exercised its veto power in the past few years by rejecting further apartment complexes.

But the pressure for building apartments continues, because it is far more profitable to build them than to build single houses. Thus developers can afford to employ distinguished planners and able attorneys to present their case to Town Meeting. Our citizens, however, recognize that this skillful presentation is not impartial, but rather that of advocates engaged to promote the interests of clients who hope to reap high financial rewards.

I do not in any way condone indecorous conduct, and believe that every speaker has the right to be courteously heard. But our citizens have been subjected to self-serving presentations in Town Meeting after Town Meeting, attempting to break down the standards they cherish; and they were appalled at the massive assault which, if successful, would have saddled the town with 523 condominium units. Thus many persons were unable to control their indignation, and they were determined, unfortunately in an unseemly way, to convey the message to present and future developers that they were fed up with such attempts, and that enough was finally enough.

Harold R. Rafton

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:
Last Saturday at 5 PM E.S.T. on Amchitka Island the United States detonated an explosive atomic warhead 250 times greater than the bomb that was used at Hiroshima, Japan. On August 6, 1945, Hiroshima, long a major military base for Western Japan and a regional army headquarters in World War II, became the first city target of an atomic bomb. The bomb, dropped by the United States precipitated the end of the war, and fell in the heart of the city completely destroying all buildings within a 2 mile radius of the center of the blast.

Approximately 92,000 people were listed as dead or missing as a result of this bombing. Why to this day do we still rationalize this act by estimating the number of Allied soldiers that might have been killed as a result of continued fighting, and completely disregard this other staggering figure of human extermination.

Why?

One reason is that it just didn't affect us very much, except for an expenditure of a mere few million dollars, the only impression that remains with most of us is that the blast at Hiroshima created a tremendous flash of light and a massive mushroom cloud. As you now read this the after effects of this bomb are still being felt, children are being born daily, deformed, because of an excess in background radiation created by that blast.

The blast at Amchitka has been determined a "complete success" and everything went as expected. The warhead detonated at Amchitka cost in the vicinity of 200 million dollars and the "valuable" information derived from the blast was exactly what all prior calculations indicated.

Then why the necessity of the expenditure of these millions of dollars and the chance taken with the possible destruction and contamination of the environment?

Was the information so vital to the security of our nation that we had to leave to chance alone possible damage to our environment too vast to comprehend?

Why after 25 years the A.E.C. (Atomic Energy Commission) isn't positive they can produce an atomic device that will work?

Less than 10 minutes after the blast reports came in of its success, with no radiation leaking into the atmosphere and tidal waves at normal. If this blast being 250 times greater than the Hiroshima blast and did not leak radioactivity into the atmosphere where then did it go? If this explosion was so sure-fire why was it observed from a distance of 26 miles? The radioactivity certainly wasn't non-existent!

I believe that our government which is supposed to be of, by and more importantly, for the people, has shown a total disregard for the will and the safety of the people. All we have is our three aspects of our environment, land, water and air. If we destroy these three vital parts we will do the inevitable which is total elimination of ourselves as a species.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:
At the fall town meeting, Sel. Greenberg asked it to approve of a modification of its by-laws so that more people would have to be present in order to carry on business. On the other hand and in nearly the same breath, he presented a vigorous statement as to why people, the same that he believes ought to come to town meeting, ought also to have their rights there foreshortened. He was against anyone presenting an Article pertaining to the zoning laws; only the Planning Board should do that in the selectman's opinion.

I'm sure that most Boards, and certainly the Planning Board,

While the status of the heating system in town hall, has, for some time, been in doubt as to its durability of service, there is little question as to when it is working.

As the demand for warmth increases, so does the noise.

Evidence that the system is working is given by the constant clanking and machine-gun like crackling of the pipes on the upper floors.

It is hoped that while it may be a noisy winter, it will also be a comfortable one as the aged boiler continues to be of service.

Another famed New England sports institution seems to have fallen by the wayside, due to modern times.

The traditional FAA track meet will no longer be run at the Easton Garden, joining in its demise, the K. of C. track meet, run each winter at the Garden.

Declining attendance was the principal reason.

For many years, both meets were annual events for many Andover men who made a day of witnessing the finest track and field events, attending the high school events in the afternoon and staying on for the evening performances.

The fire which destroyed the Andover Riding Academy barn in North Andover Saturday night certainly was spectacular.

The leaping flames cast a glow that could be seen for miles around.

Fortunately, quick action by residents, as well as public safety officials, led to the saving of many of the horses stabled in the barn area.

Some of the animals were highly prized show horses. Only five perished in the blaze.

The Townsman

75 Years Ago - November, 1896

The day is near at hand when Andover will have to be like other communities and obtain a hurdy-gurdy cart for the cleaning of the streets.

The rebuilding of Main street is becoming a task beyond ordinary comprehension, what with the changing of the grades, laying of pipes, placement of railroad tracks, telephone and telegraph lines.

Patrick McGovern was obliged to wheel Henry Platt through Pallardvale in a red, white and blue wheelbarrow to pay off an election bet over the weekend.

John Clinton will be the watchman at the Pallard Mills in the Vale beginning next week.

Andover's Educational Perspective

This year we are attempting a different budget-making process for the Andover School system.

We will develop our budget according to programs rather than line-item budgeting. We will be able to show the community how much we will spend for each program. As an example, we will be able to tell the community how much it costs for reading at a specific school. We will also be able to tell how much of the program is spent on salaries and how much for materials. We feel that such an approach will be most enlightening and helpful in understanding school costs.

In the past we have combined certain expenses under one line. As an example, textbooks would appear as textbooks but you could not ascertain the specific amount of money spent on English textbooks. We could tell the cost but we did not formulate the budget in a manner that could give the public an instant response to such a concern.

Program budgeting also presents information in such a way that community preferences can be ascertained more easily. As an example, if you know that we spend more money on athletics than physical education, is this how you wish to spend it? If you know that we spend eight times as much money on buses as on books, is this how you wish to spend your tax dollars? In some of our programs such as physical education, we spend less than three cents a lesson on materials. In other words, when you take your child to a store and buy him a four dollar football, you are spending twice as much money on that day as the instructional cost for him for the entire year in physical education.

Although the process of program budgeting highlights specific program costs, it does not resolve the fundamental question: "What are the priorities based on community 'feedback', but I can assure you that the community's priority listing is far from clear. The result is that the school committee must decide where the dollars are to be spent.

In summary, we will establish a program budget this year and will make priorities for spending the funds next year. Being informed of your thoughts will be most appreciated by the school department. Some suggestions for achieving this could be:

1. Sending letters to the Superintendent's office
2. Taking advantage of administrator's office hours
3. Attending school board meetings
4. Communicating through school-parent groups of the P.T.O. Council.

Activities Planned At Jr. High

A rally before the big game, how to buy a car without getting cheated, the building of an America's Cup champion, a hike in the country, making Christmas decorations... these are a few of the experiences being planned for students at Andover East Junior High this year.

In co-operation with the Faculty Senate and the Student Council an Activities Committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Emma Lou Danforth, is working to bring to East a variety of interesting people, films and events.

The Activities Program is divided into several categories as follows: Film Program, Noon Time Dances, Pep Club, Outdoor Activities, Guest Speakers, Student Teachers, Music Programs, Trip-A-Month Club.

In order for students to be eligible to participate in the program the student must have the approval of his homeroom teacher and the sponsor of the activity.

As the program develops, additional activities may be added. It is hoped that a variety of needs and interests will be met and that educational horizons will be extended for all students.

Reclamation, Recycling Is Gov't Goal

Resource reclamation or recycling is the goal of the federal government in waste disposal.

Earl J. Anderson, regional director of the Environmental Protection Agency, spoke in Andover, outlining government policies and accomplishments last week.

The Solid Waste Disposal Act of 1965 followed by the Resource Recovery Act of 1970 are the laws under which government grants are given to government agencies or other non-profit groups for demonstration projects in this area. In this way the government is encouraging new ideas in the field of waste disposal. At first, grants were available for short range plans or specific machinery, now the emphasis is on resource recovery systems. Collecting and disposing of the waste is not enough; plans must include ways of recovering raw materials and ways of selling these and their reuse.

Supplying existing markets and creating new ones becomes a big part of the total picture. The President has recently instructed all government agencies to change specifications so that recycled paper can be purchased and used.

Mr. Anderson says that for the United States as a whole 20 percent of our paper is presently recycled; 50 percent of the copper and lead and 40 percent of the iron.

In addition to funds for resource recovery systems as demonstration projects (these would be granted for construction only, not operation) funds are available for research and training projects granted to universities. This phase has been expanded to include training of operators and administrators of these waste disposal facilities as well as the professionals involved.

Water Colorist To Be Guest

Tadeus Klodnicki, well-known water colorist, will be the guest artist at the November meeting of the Andover Artists Guild on Sunday, Nov. 14 at 2:30 at the Bay State National Bank in Andover.

Mr. Klodnicki, a native of Poland, completed scholastic programs in Art, Architecture, and Civil Engineering in Lvov, Poland, where he received his Masters degree, and was for a time Assistant Professor of Civil Engineering and later, although Art was his avocation, worked in private employment in this field. In 1937 he was awarded first prize for Bridge Design in International Competition at Warsaw, and became Assistant Professor of Architecture in Warsaw.

He entered the Polish Underground Army in 1940 and was taken prisoner in Germany in 1944. Upon his release he worked as an artist in that country for six years. After coming to the United States in 1951, Mr. Klodnicki resumed his work in Civil Engineering while studying Art with John Chetcuti of Rockport. In 1968 his work began to be exhibited more frequently and widely.

Among the artist's one-man shows have been exhibits in New York, Boston, Rockport and Cape Cod. His work is represented in private collections throughout the country, and he is a member of a number of Art Associations. Included among Mr. Klodnicki's more recent awards are the James Price Memorial Prize for Best Landscape, New England Artists Group Prize, Best Watercolor Memorial Prize and Honorable Mention at the Grand National American Artists Professional League in New York in addition to many prizes given by art associations in Massachusetts communities.

The meeting is open to the public for a nominal fee. Refreshments will be served.

To Hear Book Review

The Lawrence Chapter of Hadassah will have a luncheon and a book review on Nov. 16 at 12:30 at the Jewish Community Center, 580 Haverhill St., Lawrence.

The guest reviewer is Mrs. Victor Schlessinger, a vivacious lady whose life work has been dedicated to Hadassah. Mrs. Schlessinger is a past president of the Boston chapter of Hadassah; past president of the New England Region of Hadassah; and was a member of the first leader's tour to Israel in 1954. Mrs. Schlessinger is now a permanent member of the National Board of Hadassah.

In addition to her Hadassah activities, Mrs. Schlessinger is on the Board of Sisterhood of Temple Ohabei Shalom, Brookline; is on the National Board of Brandeis Woman's Committee; is a board member of the N.E. Zionist Council; and is N.E. chairman of the New England Youth Commission.

Mrs. Schlessinger lived in Israel for 11 years, married there and had two daughters. She has lead many tours to Israel and visited there thirteen times since the state was created. Her last visit was mid-winter conference in Feb. 1971. Baby sitting will be provided.

LETTERS

would be the first to acknowledge that they are not a perfect font of wisdom.

It still seems to be misunderstood that any member takes precedence over boards and elected officials as such when town meeting is in session. The purpose of the meeting is mostly to give instructions with respect to all town matters to all boards and officials however much these may wish to obtain approval of their proposals.

It would seem an effective method for discouraging people to attend town meeting is to imply that their proposals shall not be entertained.

On the other hand, better control of town affairs might be obtained by not allowing people not members of town meeting to have the floor and to prevent members from using professionals to present their case.

Now with respect to inducing more people to attend, it is suggested that better merchandising be considered.

Streamers signs over the main roads into Andover might be effective with this legend: "Town Meeting Starts Monday Night (date) Your Best Chance to Improve the Tax Rate. Attend!"

Good locations are as follows: Dascomb Road, Lowell St. and River Road each near their connection with I-93. Main St. north of 125 and south of I-495; Elm St. near 114, then two over Main St. in the village.

Police, fire and tree departments could lend the equipment to install and maintain these with the town fathers, not at all fully employed, doing the actual work of installing and date changing.

An other incentive to attend town meeting is for the school committee, finance committee and selectmen to see to it that their reports in ample detail arrive at each dwelling in Andover at least two weeks before town meeting is scheduled to start. And perhaps best of all, is to elect officials after town meeting takes place, not before as is the present upside down situation.

DOWN THE YEARS

10 Years Ago - November, 1961

Miss Kathryn McCarthy, of High street, youngest faculty member at Tufts University, having received her master's degree in physics at the school in June.

Rev. Leslie John Adkins, tenders resignation as minister of West Parish church.

A Christmas formal will be conducted by the Pynchard Alumni association. It is scheduled for Dec. 26 at the Crystal Ballroom with Frankie Kahn providing the music for dancing.

In top sports events over the past weekend, Phillips beat Exeter, 7-6 in football, played to a scoreless tie with the Redmen in soccer and Pynchard played to a 6-6 tie with Methuen.

10 Years Ago

Area residents protest soot, smell, rats and ashes from the dump, asking selectmen and board of health to take corrective action.

School committee and Andover Teachers Association study bold new plan for teacher salary schedule. Two 'tracks' are established, one for bachelor and one for master degrees. Base salary is $4,100 with a maximum of $8,100.

Urban renewal plans may be made public soon. Expected to be acted upon in March town meeting, if plans can be finalized in time.

Estimated total of new construction authorized during October was $243,705.

Several local students selected to participate in Northeast Conference concert to be held in Marblehead.

OFF THE TOP

With the pleasant, almost unseasonal weather of the past several weeks, it took the cold snap of the weekend to whip many people into such winter duties as installing the storm windows and putting away air conditioners for the season.

The sudden change in the weather is more or less in conformance with the predictions of the Old Farmer's Almanac.

Hopefully, with indulgence to skiers, the old farmer won't be quite as accurate with his snowfall predictions, with white stuff predicted early this year.

Raytheon employees have been praised for their work, in a letter from Aldo R. Miccioli, vice-president of the tactical ground defense systems of the company.

In a letter to Joseph Glasser Andover plant manager and Raytheon vice president, Miccioli noted that the improved HAWK program had completed a series of reliability tests with outstanding success, complimenting the local organization, "for a splendid effort which resulted in the resounding success."

That New England is hockey territory is certainly shown by the recent success of the Boston Celtics.

The Celtics, currently leading their division of the National Basketball Association, are finding it difficult to attract fans in numbers, while the Bruins are total sellouts for all home games.

The minor league Braves are also attracting the fans in huge numbers, with sellouts expected in the not too distant future.

Dr. Seifert
To Be Guest
On Panel

Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert, superintendent of schools will be guest on Andover Roundtable, the weekly panel discussion of Andover community affairs on WPAA-FM, 91.7, the Phillips Academy radio station.

Dr. Seifert will discuss the work of study committees now examining the Andover school system.

The committees include the extended school year, climate of learning and the open campus.

Regular panelists on the broadcast, hosted by Arnon Mishkin, are Robert E. Finneran, managing editor of the TOWNSMAN, Mrs. Janet Scheerer, president of the League of Women Voters and Miss Susan Battles, of the Lawrence Eagle-Tribune.

Holiday
Opening Endorsed

The Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors has endorsed proposed legislation that would allow Massachusetts businesses to remain open on the two Monday holidays in October - Columbus Day, the second Monday in October and Veterans' Day, the fourth Monday in October.

Greater Lawrence State Representatives, William Arvanitis and Edward Grimley have announced they are proposing such a bill and the Chamber added their support to the measure.

Many New Hampshire stores are open on those holidays and it was the Chamber's recommendation that Massachusetts businessmen have the same opportunity to compete with their New Hampshire neighbors.

It was also announced that the Lawrence Chapter, Disabled American Veterans is giving their support to the bill.

Friendly Guild
Meets Monday

The Friendly Guild of Christ Church will meet on Monday, Nov. 15 at 7:45 in the parish house.

Following a business meeting a Cake Walk will be held. Members are asked to bring baked goods for the cake walk.

Isabelle Greenhow is chairman for the evening assisted by Jeanette Mooney and Ruth Waters.

Firearms Topic For Historians

Next Thursday evening at eight o'clock, George Browning will speak at the Andover Historical Society on firearms, with special emphasis on their development and importance in New England.

A native of Connecticut and at present a resident of Boston, he has been an avid collector and researcher in this historically significant field.

The program should be of particular interest not only to gentlemen but to ladies as our New England ancestors depended extensively on the use of firearms for food, livelihood and protection. There will be an exhibit from the society's collection. Mrs. A. Glenn Hanson and Mrs. Edward F. Stok-ham will be in charge of the social hour.

Inquiries regarding membership may be answered by calling or visiting the Deacon Amos Blanchard House any Monday, Wednesday or Friday between the hours of 2 and 4 p.m.

Nursery School Registration

Registration is now open for the Jewish Community Center Nursery School of Andover located at 244 Lowell St., Andover, in the Unitarian Church Building. The school offers a five morning-a-week program for children who will have reached the age of four years before Dec. 30, 1971. The school is staffed by Mrs. Irene Rochwarg, assisted by Mrs. Sylvia Neistadt, both of whom are fully accredited. Applications can be had through the Jewish Community Center's office at 580 Haverhill St. in Lawrence. Anyone desiring further information may contact Mrs. Frank Goldstein of Andover.

Children's Events At Church Fair

Events for children will be a feature of the Olde New England Fair being held Friday and Saturday, Nov. 19 and 20 at the Pallard Vale United Church.

Joey, the clown, will be on hand with grabs and the Youth Group will show old time movies at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

The children's table will specialize in items at a reasonable price for youngsters to obtain Christmas gifts.

A fish chowder supper will be served on Friday, 5:30 to 7 p.m. under the direction of Mrs. Anthony Luminello.

You get just about the same headroom and legroom in an Audi 100 LS as you do in a Rolls-Royce Silver Shadow.

The Audi isn't a very big car. On the outside.

But don't let that fool you about the size of the car on the inside.

You'll find there's more headroom than you'd ever expect. Enough for, say, a person 6'6". And if he's got unusually long legs (which a person of his size usually has) he won't have to sit clutching his knees. Because there's more legroom than you'd ever expect.

Mind you, he's not the only one who would sit comfortably. The Audi can seat a family of five rather nicely.

Now the Rolls-Royce isn't the only great car the Audi has a lot in common with.

The Audi has rack-and-pinion steering just like the Ferrari 512 racing car. And front-wheel drive just like the Cadillac Eldorado.

The Audi has the same type of brakes as the Porsche 917 racing car. And the same amount of trunk space as the Lincoln Continental.

Our interior looks so much like that of the Mercedes-Benz 280SE, you can hardly tell them apart.

And as for service, you'll get the same kind of expert service a Volkswagen gets. Because a Porsche Audi dealer is part of the VW organization.

Impressed? You should be. After all, the Audi bears a startling similarity to some of the world's finest automobiles.

But what makes the Audi especially impressive is its price tag. It's a lot less than you'd expect to pay for that many great cars.

Bancroft Campaigns For UNICEF

This year the students at Bancroft School sponsored a Trick or Treat for UNICEF as a Halloween project.

Through educational materials in the classrooms and films in the resource center, students were exposed to this part of the United Nations which deals directly with helping children. Those students who were interested volunteered their time to collect money for food and medicine to be supplied to these needy children.

There was an overwhelming response by the students and the community with a total of $411.40 collected. This money will enable UNICEF to carry on its many worthwhile programs.

The United Nations Emergency Children's Fund was established 25 years ago. During this time, over 43 million children have been treated for trachoma, 359 million have been vaccinated against tuberculosis, and more than 49,000 health centers and sub-centers have been established as a result of UNICEF.

The word "atlas" to describe a collection of maps originated when one of the early collections included as decoration for the maps the figure of the giant Atlas supporting the world on his shoulders.

Dr. Chomsky To Address Coffee House

Dr. Noam Chomsky, Professor of linguistics at MIT will be guest speaker at the People's Choice Coffee House this Friday, Nov. 12 at 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Chomsky will discuss: "Vietnam: The Illusion of Withdrawal." He is recognized as one of the nations leading critics of America's military involvement in Southeast Asia and has been called upon frequently to be featured speaker at anti-war rallies, institutes and conferences. He has long cited facts, figures and policies subsequently confirmed by disclosure of the Pentagon Papers.

He shared a jail cell with Norman Mailer after the 1967 anti-war march on the Pentagon. His book: "American Power and the New Mandarins" outlines his passionate anti-war concern. He was recently subpoenaed to testify before a Federal grand jury in Boston. He was one of four academic associates of Daniel Ellsberg brought before the jury.

People's Choice is a program oriented coffee house for adults to which youth are welcome. It meets at the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover (Route 133). People's Choice is open to the general public. A modest admission charge helps cover on-going expenses.

University Women To Hear Bowen

The public is invited to attend the next scheduled meeting of the Andover-Georgetown Branch of the American Association of University Women. This meeting will be held on Thursday, Nov. 18, at 8 p.m. at the Bancroft School in Andover.

Richard Bowen, the former Town Manager of Andover, will discuss the "Arrogant Bureaucracy" or the people's right to know and the duty of public officials to honor that right.

Mr. Bowen received his A.B. degree at Colby College, Waterville, Maine. He is presently the Acting Director of New England Rail Passengers Office, and is also the Deputy Director of Massachusetts Planning and Program Coordination.

Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Ruthann Budrewicz, Mrs. Louise Lunder, Mrs. Marjorie Hurst and Miss Marion Dugdale. The following is a list of the AAUW officers for the 1971-72 term: President, Mrs. Mary K. Hervol; Vice-President (program), Mrs. Pamela Lincoln; Vice-President (Membership), Mrs. Mary Lou Rentschler; Treasurer, Mrs. Patricia Stead; Secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Langan; Fellowship, Mrs. Mary E. Hocknell; Publicity, Mrs. Barbara Loughner; Newsletter, Mrs. Linda Pulkka; Legislative Chairman, Mrs. Esther Feier.

Chairmen for the Standing Committees are as follows: Study Group Coordinator, Mrs. Judith Yelle; The Community, Mrs. Betty Bascom; Cultural Interests, Mrs. Patricia Gorton; Education, Mrs. Jackie Nee; International Relations, Mrs. Judith Yelle; Historian, Miss Marion Dugdale; Chairman of Hostesses, Mrs. Audrey Gorman.

New members to AAUW are Mrs. Joyce Cochran, Mrs. Margaret Dugas, Mrs. Joan Fiske, Miss Mildred Garvin, Mrs. Mary Hickey, Mrs. Carol Hinkel, Mrs. Helen Koontz, Mrs. Aileen Morrissey, Mrs. Jan Richmond, Mrs. Bernice K. Warshaw and Mrs. Christine Williams.

The number of young people in the American workforce has markedly increased over the past decade. Persons 16 to 24 years old made up 20 percent of the labor force in October 1970, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports. About 17.7 million youths were working or looking for work at that time, 6.4 million more than in October 1960.

The finest butter is made where the number of cows makes it necessary to churn every day. And what is better than fine homemade butter? In Boston, in the 1860's, butter was sold by the pound as well as by the firkin. The firkin was a small tub that held about one fourth of a barrel. It was usual to lay in supplies for the winter and, likely as not, they included a firkin of butter. The butter had a fine, sweet taste, report has it, and resembled only slightly the butter we are accustomed to buying in well-sealed machine-wrapped packages!

LEGAL NOTICES

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By the virtue of the power of sale contained in and conferred by a certain Mortgage Deed given by GUY R. CATONE, Trustee of Galaxie Realty Trust under a Declaration of Trust, dated April 4, 1967 and duly recorded with Essex North District Registry of Deeds in Book 1080, Page 1, of North Reading, Middlesex County, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to the Haverhill Savings Bank, now known as The Family Mutual

Savings Bank, a corporation duly established by law and having its usual place of business in Haverhill, in the County of Essex, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, said mortgage being dated April 17, 1968, and recorded with Essex North District Registry of Deeds, Book No. 1105, Page No. 106, for breach of the conditions of said Mortgage Deed, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be held at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Tuesday, November 30, 1971, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises described in said Mortgage Deed: substantially as follows, namely: The land with the buildings thereon situated in Andover, Essex County, being Lot #10 shown on a "Plan of Land in Andover, Mass., surveyed for CLARENCE E. WEDGE, and dated December 16, 1960, said plan prepared and drawn by Robert E. Anderson, Civil Engineer and Surveyor" and recorded in Essex

North District Registry of Deeds, Plan 4260 and more particularly bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the South side of Harold Parker Road at the Northwest corner of land of CLARENCE WEDGE, being Lot #11 shown on said plan, the line boundary runs.

SOUTH 14° 23' 30" East 875.08 feet by land of WEDGE to land of the COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS; thence the line turns and runs.

SOUTH 61° 57' 00" West 124.05 feet by land of the COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS to a point; thence the line turns and runs.

NORTH 14° 23' 30" West 792.94 feet, more or less, by land of WEDGE, being Lot #9 as shown on said plan to a point on Harold Parker Road; thence the line turns and runs.

NORTH 37° 28' 00" East 145.19 feet, more or less, by the South side of Harold Parker Road to a point of curvature; thence the line runs 34.81 feet, more or less, along a curve with the radius of 300 feet still by the South side of Harold Parker Road to the point of beginning. Containing 2.747 acres more or less.

Being the same premises conveyed to GUY R. CATONE, Trustee of Galaxie Realty Trust, by deed of GORDON I. GOLDSTEIN and MARCELINE C. GOLDSTEIN, dated April 11, 1967 and recorded with Essex North District Registry of Deeds in Book 1080, Page 1. Said premises will be sold and conveyed subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles, municipal liens and assessments which take precedence over said mortgage. If any; One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars of the purchase price must be paid in a certified check and the balance to be paid in or within ten (10) days of the sale and other terms will be made known at time and place of sale.

If you desire to object thereto you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Salem before ten o'clock in the forenoon on the twenty-ninth day of November 1971, the return day of this citation.

Witness, JOHN A. COSTELLO, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this fourth day of November 1971. JOHN J. COSTELLO, Register J. Albert Bradley, Atty. Bay State Building Lawrence, Mass. Nov. 11-18-24

Simply Electrifying

Relief from one of life's petty annoyances is at hand — or you could say at foot. The incorporation of a minute quantity of superfine nickel stainless steel fiber in carpeting draws off the static electricity that zaps you when you touch metal.

Brandeis Women Plan Meeting

Mrs. Neil Blume, president of the Greater Lawrence-Lowell Chapter of the Brandeis National Women's Committee will hold their fall meeting at 1 p.m. Monday afternoon, Nov. 15 at Temple Emmanuel of Lowell.

The program will feature Annette Miller and Mary Jane Wells in a theatrical musical collage entitled, "Who's A Lady? Modern woman's quest for identity is the theme of the performance."

Miss Miller has appeared off Broadway, on national and local television, at the Theatre Company of Boston, the Charles Playhouse and the Loeb Theatre. Miss Wells has performed at Lincoln Center, on tour with the National Shakespeare Company and at leading resident theatre companies throughout the country.

A variety of delicious homemade gourmet desserts will be served during the meeting at 1 p.m. at Temple Emmanuel of Lowell. Mrs. Robert Raab is program chairman of the event. Assisting are: Mrs. Arthur Neyman, Mrs. Herbert Gilbert and Mrs. Irving Bachner.

The Brandeis National Women's Committee is a unique organization dedicated to the support of the Brandeis University Library.

From the University's beginning in 1948, its National Women's committee has assumed full and sole responsibility for stocking, staffing and maintaining the Brandeis Library.

Supper Planned At Center

Countless teenage and adult volunteers throughout the Merrimack Valley are busy planning a Spaghetti Supper to be held at the Christian Formation Center on Friday, Nov. 12, and served from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m., to benefit RARA, the Retarded Adults Recreation Association of Lowell. Friars at the Christian Formation Center, sponsors of this event, have announced that proceeds will go towards purchasing a bus to transport the "special children" to and from the RARA center.

RARA and the Christian Formation Center welcomes the Merrimack Valley community to join with them on Friday, Nov. 12, to help this worthy cause.

Cash Balance Decreases

A $32.8 million decrease in the state's cash balance for October was noted today by State Treasurer Robert Q. Crane in his monthly financial report.

At the end of October, which completed the first third of fiscal year 1972, the state's cash balance, Treasurer Crane stated, was $30,680,121, as compared with September's cash balance of $63,480,312.

The decrease resulted when October's disbursements reached $319.2 million and total receipts were $286.4 million, Treasurer Crane pointed out.

Massachusetts bonded indebtedness Treasurer Crane reports, is more than one billion and a quarter dollars. On November 1 the bonded debt was $1,263,297,000 as compared to $1,019,034,000 on November 1, 1970, the state treasurer reported.

R. E. Byrd became the first man to fly over the North Pole, Nov. 29, 1929.

For holiday television and ap-

Appliance Center, 265 Main Street,
North Reading, in the Atlantic Plaza. Prices are competitive and everything sold is backed by excellent service . . . which is as near as your telephone. Tony Bonanno, owner of Renfrew TV, is now showing a complete line of the very latest in RCA and G.E.
television in styles and models for every need and every decor.
He also specializes in expert antenna installation, inside and out.

The newest thing in TV this season is the XL-100 by RCA. Here is a color television that is made to last! All chassis tubes are eliminated; they have been replaced with solid state components, the most stable, most reliable, most long-lived used in television today.

To replace the Accu-Circuit modules, your service technician simply snaps out the old module and plugs in a new one, so most repairs can be done in the home, more quickly and easily than ever.

RCA has such confidence in the reliability of XL-100 color TV that they back each set with a full one year warranty covering both parts and labor. XL-100 consoles and table models require about 35% less power to operate than tube-type sets, saving you money on your electric bill. See this exciting new RCA XL-100 soon at Renfrew.
Whites are whiter, colors are brighter, with details sharply etched. It is specifically designed for the discriminating buyer who refuses to compromise on quality.

North Andover Response To Y Program Encouraging

The Andover YMCA assistance to the North Andover Community Center has been "encouraging," as the local organization has completed its first month of activity.

Dick Cate, of the Andover Y, who has been loaned to the North Andover group to assist in the direction of a program there reports that the initial experience has been somewhat encouraging, but not as yet up to expectations.

The local Y has been assisting in the North Andover program this year, while the suburban organization retains its own identity and budgetary operations.

The aim is to gear a program there for the community, similar to what Cate did when he was assigned to Andover by the Greater Lawrence YMCA.

The North Andover group still retains its control of the community center, using only the talents of the Andover Y which has been given through agreement with the Andover YMCA board.

David C. Parent, who operated the North Andover Community Center program during the summer, has continued in that capacity for the fall program. He is a student at Merrimack College.

On the encouraging side, Cate reported, is the registration for the fall program. Enrollment in North Andover was higher for a single day than all of the fall registration of a year ago.

To conduct the programs many of the Andover program leaders have assisted and the use of facilities at Phillips Academy have been used with permission of the academy officials.

While enrollment has been higher, it was slightly below expectations.

Among some of the difficulties encountered is the inability to spend adequate time, Cate said. He must continue his Andover activities in conjunction with the North Andover program.

Activity will continue in North Andover on the present course, he said, that of aiding and assisting in the setting up of a program. There is no suggestion as of the moment as to the YMCA taking over the Community Center operations.

Currently in the planning states, however, is the combined new Andover-North Andover YMCA building to be constructed near Merrimack College.

The family type operation is being planned by a committee composed of representatives of the two communities.

In order to eliminate any possibility of conflict of interest, in selling such supplies to the school or town department, Derosier requested the special classification after conferring with Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien. Counsel advised that the designation would eliminate any possibilities of conflict.

Derosier explained to the selectmen that he can provide supplies to the school department at a savings, as compared to other businesses providing similar services.

Traditional Clash On Weekend

Phillips Academy had its lengthy unbeaten string snapped last Saturday as Dartmouth's B freshman team swamped the Royal Blue 48-28.

Rick Chebbookjian led the visitors offense, scoring four touchdowns.

For Andover, Peter McCandless accounted for all of Andover's scoring with four touchdown passes.

The academy winds up its season Saturday with traditional rival Exeter.

Phillips will be a slight favorite over the Big Red, but in the usual manner, anything can happen in a traditional clash, particularly one with such a long history.

Exeter, like Andover has a single loss on its record this year, that to Tufts freshmen.

Ready For Winter Weather

There was a semblance of things to come in the air Wednesday as a few drifting snowflakes fell on Andover.

Public Works Director Robert McQuade reports that the sprinkling was much less than anticipated, the weather station to which the town subscribes having warned Tuesday night of a possible inch of white stuff for the area.

McQuade said that all town equipment is ready for winter weather. All plowing and snow removal equipment has been thoroughly checked over and is ready to roll.

All equipment, such as sand and salt, is in storage ready for application, when and if, the snow does arrive.

Popular CD Director Succumbs

Burton B. Batcheller, 48, 81 Center St., Ballardvale, Andover Civil Defense director for the past ten years, died Wednesday afternoon at Lawrence General Hospital following a long illness.

He was president of Andover Tractors, Inc.

An avid sportsman, he was a director of the Andover Sportsman's Club and also held membership in the Andover Service club. He was a member of Cochichewick Lodge, A.F. and A.M. of North Andover.

A veteran of World War II, he served from 1942 to 1945 with the 87th Mounted Infantry Regiment with the rank of staff sergeant. He was awarded the Bronze Star and the Combat Infantry Badge.

He is survived by his wife Edith (Anderson) Batcheller, two daughters, Leslie of Andover and Jo-Ann, wife of Robert Jacobson of North Adams; a son, Burton B. Batcheller, Jr., and a brother, Robert A. of East Hartford, Conn. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Ballardvale United Church. Cremation will be in Harmony Grove, Salem.

Friends may call at the Lundgren funeral home, 18 Elm St., today from 7 to 9 p.m., and Friday from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society, 138 Newbury St., Boston.

Ballardvale Road Breaks Investigated

Several breaks in the Ballardvale Road section of Andover during the past week, are being probed by police.

Police are currently investigating the theft of a color television set from the home of the Roy family at 84 Ballardvale Road and also a gun collection belonging to Tyler Perry, 94 Ballardvale Road.

According to police, other breaks under investigation involve thefts on Enfield Drive, located off Ballardvale Road.

No leads have been developed on any of the cases, police report.

Phillips, Abbot Won't Merge

Phillips and Abbot academies will continue to operate on a co-operative basis, with no immediate possibilities of a merger.

The Phillips trustees, in a recent meeting, decided against a merger at this time but encouraged increased co-operation between the two schools.

Discussion of a merger has been underway for the past few years and an increasing number of courses have been offered at both schools for the girls and boys of each.

Co-education has been on the increase at the two schools, during the time the merger proposal has been under study.

The Phillips trustees in their decision decided against an actual merger for financial reasons, feeling that such action is not feasible at this time or in the foreseeable future.

The board, however, encouraged increased cooperation between the schools in the field of co-education.

Abbot academy trustees, meeting last week took cognizance of the Phillips board decision and will continue to operate on a co-operative level.

This year there are 193 Abbot girls enrolled in Andover courses and 327 boys registered for courses at Abbot.

Classified As Special Employee

Alfred C. Derosier has been classified as a special municipal employee by the selectmen, in order that he may conduct his private business in dealing with the school department.

Derosier, a lieutenant in the fire department, also conducts a private business selling custodial supplies.
